

QUIZ QUESTION

What use case below is it appropriate to use a union?

When you want to determine all reasons students are late. Currently, each late reason is maintained within tables corresponding to the grade the student is in.

When you want to determine which state students live. Currently, there is one table for students and their academic performance and another table with their demographic and location information.

When you want to determine the average price of products that sold over $10k in revenue. Currently, there is one table that has all products and their respective pricing.

When you want to determine the total number of teachers by neighborhood in a particular city. Currently, there is one table that maintains the teacher's information, including which neighborhood they teach in.

SUBMIT